Death Car Driver Freed; "No Evidence"

The driver of a car that jumped a curb after being struck by another car, hurled over the pavement and crashed into a building killing a man seated on the steps, was freed this week of a charge of reckless homicide, because of lack of evidence.

The charge against James W. Byers, 29, 1006 Edgemont was dismissed by Judge Patrick J. Barton in Municipal Court 3 this week because of failure of Patrolman Alvie Emmelman, one of the arresting officers, to testify.

The officer, the Court was told, was confined to his home because of injuries received in another accident. Byers told police at time of the accident May 30, he was driving across W. 16th street on Mills when in collision with another going west, causing him to lose control.

THE VICTIM pinned against the building and suffering fatal injuries was Sam Henry, 452½ W. 16th, a truck driver who was seated on the steps of the building watching the heavy holiday traffic that included many motorists arriving for the Speedway race next day.

Arrested the day of the accident, May 30, Byers was held on a preliminary charge of reckless homicide. Under the law a person may be held on a preliminary charge for seven days, and at the end of that time, must be dismissed unless a regular charge is placed against him.

DRIVER of the car Byers said struck his was Rev. Ernest H. Adams, 62, 3042 Graceland, pastor of Antioch Baptist Church.

A witness to the accident, Williams, 33, 742 Roache said he had been seated with Henry, but escaped before Byers' car crashed into the building at 452 W. 16th street.

Freed On Bond in Killing Woman Patient Accuses Dentist of Misconduct

Man Who Shot Another In Back Out On Bond

William H. Kendrick, 42-year-old father who shot to death a youth accused of raping his daughter, was admitted to $2,500 bond Friday of last week by Judge John L. Niblack in Superior Court 1.

At the conclusion of a habeas corpus hearing, Judge Niblack ruled there was no malice or premeditation in Kendrick's acts and added he thought the defendant should be charged with manslaughter.

Charged with murder, Kendrick had been held in jail without bond since May 27, the date of the slaying.

He admits shooting 24-year-old Ronald Hopson in the back as the youth ran from his home at 1728 Roosevelt avenue. Hopson lived at 1750 E. 30th.

Kendrick told the court his daughter, Dorothy, 20, had been raped by Hopson May 19. He said the youth dragged the young woman from her home into a waiting car, took her to a deserted spot and attacked her.

The father said Hopson had tried continuously since May 17 to see Dorothy but she spurned his attentions. Hopson was released from the state reformatory at Pendleton May 17.

Kendrick said Hopson threatened to kill him on many occasions when he told the young man he couldn't see his daughter.

ON THE DAY of the killing, according to Kendrick, Hopson went to the Kendrick home and asked for Dorothy.

Kendrick said he asked Hopson why he wanted to see the young woman, and the youth cursed him for his questioning and threatened to "get" him.

"I backed up three steps and picked up my 12-gauge shotgun," Kendrick said.

"When he saw the gun he started running and I ran out and fired one shot at him."

The powerful shotgun pellets tore into the right side of Hopson's back as he sidestepped and dashed through Roosevelt avenue traffic in an attempt to escape with his life.

Dorothy Kendrick admitted in a signed statement to police that she had dated Hopson several times and had met him at the skating rink on a number of occasions in 1951 and 1952.

Mrs. Julia Hopson, Ronald's mother, showed representatives of The Recorder letters Dorothy had written to her son. The young woman professed eternal love for the youth.

Petition For Traffic Light At Busy Corner

Failure of city officials to install automatic traffic signal at the corner of 22nd and Martinale will certainly result in injury and probably death to pedestrians during the coming summer months, a group of aroused residents in that area believe.

Mrs. Ida Griffin, 23rd and Arsenal, said a petition bearing the signatures of several hundred persons had been handed the Board of Works about six weeks ago.

Al Smith Yanked To Court By His Wife

PHILADELPHIA — Al Smith, Cleveland Indian leftfielder brought up from Indianapolis last year, was seeking an "out" last week from domestic trouble.

The promising ball player was arrested Friday last week on a charge of non-support brought by his estranged wife, Mary Elizabeth, 24, who claimed her 28-year-old husband had failed to carry out a $200-a-month support order issued in St. Louis several months ago.

The Smiths were married more than three years ago and separated last January. Mrs. Smith said. They have two children.

Smith denied he owed money under the court order, claiming all his pay checks except one have been attached since the court proceedings.

He was released under $1,000 bond pending further hearing here.

A native of Pennsylvania, Rev. Hall has been pastor of Second Baptist Church since 1932. He served as moderator of the Union District Association 1940 to 1953; general secretary of the Indiana General Baptist Convention, 1935 to 1941 and 1945 to the present time.

Dentist Denies He Molested Doped Patient

A middle-aged dentist who supplements his earnings by working as a postal employee was arrested last week on morals charges sworn against him by an attractive female patient.

Dr. George W. Buckner, 48, who has offices at 359½ Indiana avenue, was scheduled to face preliminary charges of assault and battery with intent to rape June 11 before Judge Scott A. McDonald, Municipal Court 4.

Detective Sgt. Jack Bevan, investigating the case, told The Recorder the dentist would probably be re-slated on a straight charge of assault and battery with intent to rape.

A PETITE 22-year-old mother stopped police at Vermont street and Indiana avenue, a short distance from the entrance of Dr. Buckner's office Thursday afternoon of last week and nervously registered her complaint against the dentist.

She said she had two impacted wisdom teeth and on the advice of an aunt had sought treatment at Dr. Buckner's office.

The dentist administered a shot of penicillin and then gave her a liquid to take, the woman said. He then ushered her to a couch in the waiting room where he told her to lie down.

The young mother said she dozed off under the effect of the

NEW NEGRO SCHOOL FOR MISS. TOWN
NEWTON, Miss.—Despite the recent U. S. Supreme Court decision outlawing separate schools, Newton voters last week approved a $20,000 bond issue to be matched by $60,000 from the state of Mississippi, for construction of a $60,000 Negro vocational high school.

City fathers are boasting that when this is completed to supplement an elementary school already completed, Negroes will have two of the finest schools in the state.

PRaise DECISION, THEN GO HOME
HOUSTON, Tex. (ANP)—The Texas conference of the white Methodist Church being held here approved a report lauding the recent Supreme Court decision outlawing separate schools, but made no mention of the possibility of integrating Negro and white Methodists, although A. Frank Smith, Methodist Bishop of Texas said such action is within the province of members of the individual churches to decide.

LOUISVILLE TO KEEP J. C. PARKS
LOUISVILLE (ANP)—Segregation in public schools here will continue for some time, Mayor Broadus told a delegation of NAACP representatives last week.

"We don't intend to change our regulations in the parks until, I don't know when," he said. Right now we are marking time until the Supreme Court decision becomes final."

The U. S. Supreme Court has ruled that a public-owned, but privately leased theater in Louisville cannot bar Negroes. There is pending in the Kentucky Court of Appeals a suit challenging the city's park-segregation policy.

VIRGINIA DEMOS GET TOGETHER

Slayer Of White Man Convicted In Record Time

William Leonard Haley, 22-year-old Eastsider who fatally stabbed Junior Flemmon Irons, white, last Nov. 7, was convicted of second degree murder Wednesday by a jury in the Morgan County Circuit Court at Martinsville.

Attorney H. Perry Smith, who defended the youth, immediately announced he would appeal the conviction. The jury reached its verdict within an hour.

Haley lives at 1822 Bellefontaine. Morgan Circuit Judge John E. Sedwick is expected to sentence Haley to life imprisonment Monday. The judge delayed the sentencing at the request of defense counsel.

Irons, 28, 2530 Karsten drive, died in Methodist hospital of three stab wounds in the chest several hours after he fought with Haley in a car parked in the 200 block of Blake street.

BOBBY IRONS, 22-year-old brother of Junior, testified Haley was seated in his brother's car with him and his brother.

The youth admitted he and his brother were in the neighborhood in quest of "colored girls" and said Haley had agreed to procure the women. Bobby said his brother grabbed Haley around the neck and struck him over the head with a full beer bottle as Haley tried to get out of the car.

He said he didn't see Haley stab Junior.

Haley told the all-male jury he was stunned when the white man struck him with the bottle and admitted he "possibly could have stabbed the man in the struggle."

Detective Sgt. Earl Booth, homicide, testified a broken beer bottle with the cap still intact was found in the car, along with 19 unopened bottles of beer.

JAMES LEWIS, an ex-convict who claims he is now a truck driver, presented the most damaging testimony. He formerly drove bootleg cabs at 25th and Martinale.

LEWIS, 2744 Guilford, said he saw Haley the night of the stabbing at the corner of Vermont street and Indiana avenue.

Lewis said Haley told him "he needed some money and he would burn someone to get it."

After going home, Lewis said he came back to the corner and ran into Haley again. This time he quoted the youth as saying:

"I just knifed a 'paddy'."

"I'm glad I killed the white man."

Haley said he had never seen Lewis before Lewis took the witness stand.

Attorney Smith, in a plea for a self-defense acquittal, accused Lewis of being "a police informer who rats and makes deals to keep himself out of jail."

Haley was arrested in Detroit, on Dec. 22, and later indicted for first degree murder.

Mark Anthony Tribute Thrills Relatives Here

Two Indianapolis residents enjoyed a long range but vital interest in the dual significance of the observance of Memorial Day, May 30, by citizens of the small town of Scottsville, Ky.

In addition to traditional tributes to the revered dead, honors were paid Mark Anthony, a native who had made good in other sections.

The day was officially designated "Mark Anthony Day" by proclamation of Scottsville Mayor D. S. Whitmore, in loving tribute to the man with historically distinguished namesake who is presently a resident of Louisville where he has served as chief deputy tax commissioner since 1938.

AFTER leaving Scottsville at an early age, Mark Anthony took up residence in Cleveland where he served on the police force.

He is a deacon of the Mt. Lebanon Baptist Church of Louisville and is active in the NAACP, Urban League and Boy Scouts organizations there.

Highlight of the honoring festivities was an official presentation to Mr. Anthony by the tax commissioner of Allen county, Ky., in which Scottsville is situated.

GIFTS included luggage, brief cases, desk lamps and other presents by various citizens and organizations.

The two Indianapolis relatives of Mr. Anthony are Mrs. Ethel Bratton, 1526 E. 30th street and Mrs. Mildred January, 4117 Clarendon Road.

Race Relations A Church Problem, Dr. J. Jordan Tells Baptist Congress

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (Sp.)—Only when the basic teaching of Christ is universally recognized and complied with will human rights, including civil rights, be enjoyed by all men, regardless of race, creed, color or previous condition of servitude, declared Dr. J. A. G. Jordan, Indianapolis, before a large audience Thursday night, June 10, attending the 50th annual convention of the National Baptist Sunday School Congress.

The Indianapolis minister, pastor of the Good Samaritan Baptist Church traced to the Bible the irrefutable truth of his thesis that "all men belong to the same human family."

"Man had one common origin with God the creator of all. The Holy writ teaches, 'God hath made of one blood, all nations of men to dwell on all the face of the earth' (Acts: 17-26)."

Since men of all races came from one common source with God the Father, he reasoned, all are sons of Him and brothers one of another.

RECOGNIZING the disagreement of science and the Bible as to the origin of mankind, Rev. Jordan averred it is generally agreed that all men belong to the same species—a fundamental fact upon which is based the brotherhood of man.

"Brotherhood," said the Hoosier leader eloquently, "is not a sentimental aspiration. It is a practical reality. It is a handclasp across the world from heart to heart."

"It is the pure flow of reason over the darkness of bigotry. It is strength and understanding. 'We find in the word of God, basic moral and spiritual principles that give us specific instructions and guidance we need in 'race relations.'"

From the vantage point deep in the heart of Texas and the South came this challenge to the unscientific beliefs of that section:

"The only distinction among men should be based on the individual, rather than racial differences, and these should not be used to maintain a caste system or restrict the status of any individual."

Obviously with the customary reaction of the South in mind when the issue of racial equality is brought forth, Rev. Jordan declared:

"And if you work as you say you will, you should be assured, a very fruitful and adventurous life," Mr. Gardner concluded before handing out the diplomas.

PRINCIPAL RUSSELL A. LANE presented $9,120 in scholarship awards.

Dorothy Lee Ann Burks, who transferred to Attucks last September from Lawrence Central and maintained an "A" average throughout her four years, topped the graduating class.

Hattie Roberts and Jesse Burks, both of whom have completed only three years of high school work, will bypass the senior year and enter college this fall, Dr. Lane announced.

The outstanding students, described by Dr. Lane as "brilliant," passed national competitive examinations and were awarded Ford Foundation Scholarships.

Miss Roberts received an $800 scholarship to Fisk University and Burks was awarded a $1,400 scholarship to Morehouse College.

The entire graduating class presented a deeply-moving, dramatic presentation entitled "This We Believe."

Doris Bradley, Alice Sloan and Myra DeBow were narrators as the rest of the class participated through choric speaking.

THE CLASS CONFIRMED its belief in that "dignity and worth of man," "the dignity of work" and "human rights."

"The worth of the individual man is more precious than the earth on which he lives, than the food and clothing which sustains and warms him," Miss Bradley said.

"Man should have pride in his work for it is his work, his blessing. It is pride in work that makes each of our lives happy," declared Miss Sloan.

MUSIC WAS PRESENTED by the Attucks orchestra, under the direction of LaVerne E. Newsome; girls' glee clubs, directed by Mrs. Marion Burch and accompanied by Donald Overby; Attucks band, and the Attucks choir and glee clubs, directed by Anderson Dailey.

D. C. TO LET JIM CROW DIE GRADUALLY
WASHINGTON, D. C. (CNS)—Washington school officials voted to accept the plan of School Supt. Hobart M. Corning which calls for gradual de-segregation of the public schools of the national capital, rather than prompt abolition next fall. Some Negro children in overcrowded schools will be transferred to white schools, they said, at the beginning of the Sept. term, but not many.

KENTUCKY MINISTERS' GROUP ADMITS NEGROES
JEFFERSONTOWN, Ky. (ANP)—The Jeffersontown Ministerial Association last week admitted two Negro pastors for the first time.

They are the Rev. W. M. Richardson, pastor of First Baptist Church, and the Rev. N. J. Johnson, of St. Paul Methodist Church.

The newly elected members met with the association and helped plan for an interracial parade held here Saturday, June 5. The parade was staged to promote vacation Bible schools.

drink Dr. Buckner had given her. She awoke to find her shoes and underwear had been removed, she declared. Dr. Buckner was standing over her handling her, she said.

WHEN SHE INDIGNANTLY rebuked him, the woman said, Dr. Buckner told her she was suffering an hallucination as a result of the drugs he had given her. He then allegedly told her to get into the dental chair and he would extract her aching teeth.

Instead, the woman put on her garments and shoes and fled into Indiana avenue, she told detectives.

Police who accompanied her back to the office reported they found the door locked and that Dr. Buckner did not answer.

Dr. Buckner was arrested when he went with his attorney to police headquarters after learning the young mother had accused him. The dentist vehemently denied the woman's allegations.

He said the liquid he had given her was three ounces of white wine with a half-grain of morphine in it to ease the woman's pain and steady her nerves.

Dr. Buckner said this is a common practice among dentists. But Sergeant Bevan reported other dentists did not confirm this.

Dr. Buckner said he was holding the young mother when she came to "to protect her. People have been known to jump out of windows while coming out from under drugs," he asserted.

dale said it was hoped at the time that the lights would be installed before closing of the present school term.

Many hundreds of children, now out of school will need this protection, declared Mrs. Starks, prominent civic worker and member of the Women Sponsors of The Recorder Charities.

Records in the traffic department at police headquarters support the charge of the leaders of the move that three persons have been killed and many others seriously injured in auto accidents at this corner in recent years.

MRS. STARKS said further action is being considered by the group of interested residents of officials continue to ignore the hazard the unguarded intersection presents to both motorists and pedestrians.

Recorder Women Sponsors To End Year's Activities At Summer Tea

Social Scene

By RICHARD C. HENDERSON

The lull after the storm of events in connection with the Memorial Day weekend is really a complete one. As far as this observer knows, Indianapolis has been socially dead. Everything worth talking about is in the future!

For instance, The Recorder Women Sponsors will end their year's work with a "Summer Tea" at the home of their director, Mrs. Paul A. Batties, at 3 on Saturday, June 26.

They will evaluate work of the past year, discuss plans for launching the summer-aid campaign for funds and appoint chairmen for the new season.

Membership in the group is, incidentally, open, and persons interested in doing a really valuable piece of work might call Mrs. Batties.

With the closing of the Saturday recreation periods, the Phyllis Wheatley YWCA will swing into its annual six-week summer day camp program, starting Monday morning at 8.

Swimming, music, dramatics, art, crafts, dancing, recreation-in-the-park, a cook-out and trips will be featured activities Monday through Thursday from 8 to 1 for girls 7 to 14 years of age.

Parents are urged to enroll their children for wholesome, supervised daily activity. Registrations are being accepted now or may be made on the opening day. Further information may be obtained by calling the branch, Lincoln 1436.

The Indianapolis Wilberforce Central State Alumni club will meet Wednesday night at 8 at the home of Robert Wilson, 1157 Congress avenue. A comparatively new club, the group invites all former students and graduates of the schools to join. Alvin Magness is president. You can call him for information at Talbot 3483.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Schexsneider had as recent guests Mr. and Mrs. William Elliott, Chicago. Mrs. Elliott is Midwest Regional director of the National Sorority of Phi Delta Kappas.

The local chapter observed Founder's Day last week at the Bamboo Inn, with Mrs. Ora Thomas as speaker. Mrs. Schexsneider, as basileus of the chapter, presented Mrs. Georgia Robinson, former basileus, with a beautiful gift in appreciation of her services. Mrs. Myrtle Bethel was chairman of the affair.

Mesdames Blanche Horner, Mary Etta Johnson and Elsie Solomon and Miss Rosella McClung, pledges of the Delta Kappa, entertained the "sorors" at the home of the Indiana Federation of Colored Women's Clubs and were initiated into the sorority Saturday.

Mrs. John W. Lee, Jr., and children, Deborah Andrea and Cheryl Ann, are here from Monterey, California, visiting her mother, Mrs. Lillian Bridgewater, and parents-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. John Lee, Sr.

They will remain here while the husband and father, Lieut. John Lee, is on sea duty.

Speaking of servicemen, Lieut. Mason P. Bryant was home recently visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. R. Bryant, Sr.

Walter E. Rogers, New York City, stopped off while enroute to Connorsville to visit his mother, Mrs. Mary Rogers. Walter, a former choir member at St. Philip's, was telling me they have a Negro thrifter (the person who swings the incense) at the Church of St. Mary the Virgin in New York City. The church is quite interracial; be sure to visit it when you're there.

And speaking of churches reminds me—Miss Doris Houston flew last Friday to Charleston, West Virginia, to visit Rev. and Mrs. Oscar E. Holder, Fr. Holder, former vicar of St. Philip's here, is now at St. James Church in Charleston and is chaplain at West Virginia State College. Doris returned Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest R. Battles will sail Tuesday from New York on the SS Cristobal, destination Haiti. In Port-au-Prince they will be guests at the Hotel Riviera and upon completing their Caribbean cruise will return to New York for a week's stay, during which Mrs. Battles will be a delegate from the Indianapolis Education Association to the convention of the National Education Association.

Before returning home, they will visit Mr. and Mrs. John Mifchem and family in Harrisburg, Pa.

PTA of Mary E. Cable School 4 Closes Year With "Ole King Cole" Stage Production

The PTA of School No. 4 closed its year's activities with a presentation of "Ole King Cole" in the school auditorium last Friday night under the general chairmanship of Mrs. Jeanetta Greene, assisted by Miss Leslye Henderson, co-chairman. Miss Shirley Lawrence was chairman of the general arrangements committee, assisted by Mrs. Greene, Mesdames Veola Thomas and Lillian Pope and Miss Henderson.

Pupils in each room participated under the direction of their teachers. Erika Beverly was "King Cole," while Emmanuel Foster, Bruce Armstrong and Samuel Foster were the fiddlers. Narrators were Andrew Waters and Richard Bryant.

Mrs. Dorothy Davaul was pianist.

The king, narrators and fiddlers were costumed and trained by Mrs. Pope with the help of Mesdames Gladys Doyle and Frances Schexsneider.

Voice of the Eastside

By MARY P. MCGUIRE

Hello, folks! This time I'm not guilty of missing out last week. My news was lost in the rush, so I trust that you who called to know what happened will understand. This week we get a full column of the old and new.

A very fine service closed recently at St. John AME Church, of which Rev. H. A. Perry is pastor. Rev. M. Allen as speaker gave many splendid sermons. Talking on "What Kind of Spirit Do You Have?" do thank God. Who is able to make the impossible possible under all handicaps. He will answer prayer.

The speaker said there was a solution for these problems; "God can deliver you when you are in a bad mood," she said "Do something good for someone. Watch, fight and pray. Get a clean spirit." The Freeman Sisters rendered selections.

The church has been recently decorated at a cost of more than $1,000, which the pastor said was paid in a very short time. The beautiful cross, pulpit and walls looked swell.

The passing of Elmer Dulin, a World War veteran who died after two weeks illness on Memorial Day at the Tenth Street Veterans Hospital, brought sadness to many. He was stockholder in the Eastside Better Business and Civic League and a cousin of Van Smith, Fred Dulin of this city and Dr. H. S. Smith, Evansville.

Rev. E. T. Johnson, an executive chairman of the league, read the eulogy, while Rev. J. Inman Dixon served as master of ceremonies. Solos came from Mrs. Blossom Jones, David M. Walker and the Jacobs Brothers Westside Chapel. Ed Sweeney was in charge of pallbearers, who included Gene Davis, Archie Grayhouse and William H. Hill. The funeral was held June 2 at the Jacobs Chapel.

Mr. Dulin was one of the Ole Scribe's closest friends and as his representative I do feel very grateful for all efforts made. Mrs. Annie Mae Horton, vice-president of the business league, the Harris Brothers Studio, Mesdames Ada Douglass, Mary Owens and Lillie Rasdall and Miss Lorene Horne stood by for all the assistance they could give.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Janus, old employers of Mr. Dulin's, were among the mourners. Contributions for the services came from Attorney W. Rappaport and other former employers.

With the death of Mr. Dulin, the Ole Scribe missed out on many events of the holiday weekend. However, she nosed in on the part of Mrs. Coda H. Sweeney, 304 North Missouri street. Enjoying the lovely dinner were a son, Robert Head, Detroit; Mr. and Mrs. Mead Broadway, Chicago, and John Head.

Good Samaritan Baptist Church carried an overflow meeting all day Sunday, May 30, with 200 guests from Dayton. Rev. R. Buchanan and his congregation spurred the church. The women of the church went over big. Men of the church had a great success with their "Men's Day" last Sunday. Dr. J. A. G. Jordan is pastor.

Miss Marguerite Cutler, 1445 Massachusetts avenue, is doing fine after being released from the hospital. She can be seen taking walks now. Seemingly she and my daughter, Ann, are in a race, trying to see who can walk the farthest.

Ann attended Sunday school last Sunday for the first time in five months, and I must say, I did not have to rush her this time. Herebefore I had to hurry her all the way, but last Sunday she was up before anyone, getting her little duds out for Sunday school. She made the steps very nicely with the assistance of her cane.

After many long months of illness and being given up by hospital doctors, she has made it this far. As her mother, I know that somewhere somebody prayed. I

Cook Chicken To Perfection

The secret of good fried chicken is to use a heavy skillet for frying and plenty of hot Crisco. Never add cold fat to the pan after the chicken has started to fry, as this prevents browning.

Coat the chicken pieces evenly with seasoned flour and fry in Crisco over medium heat until they start to brown. Keep the cover off and turn the pieces so they'll brown evenly. This takes about 10 or 15 minutes.

Turn down the fire, cover the pan and cook for another 15 minutes or so, until the chicken is as done as you like it.

If you serve chicken in a basket with French fries and hot biscuits, you can save on dishwashing. And keep a small pitcher of honey handy to drizzle over the biscuits as you eat them. That's eating!

"I Did It Myself
With Maine Sardines!"

Little Helen Holte of New York City shows Mommy how to make a Wagon Wheel Salad with Maine sardines. Children love to prepare dishes with the decorative little silver fish.

Is your family becoming a little bored with Lenten fish meals? Well then, let the children prepare their own salad lunches, such as the Maine Sardine Wagon Wheel shown here. You'll find that their appetites increase when they're allowed to "create" their own dishes, with just a hint or two to get them started. This is a quick, easy salad with both eye and appetite appeal. Cut a lettuce head crosswise in 1/2-inch thickness. Roll the edges of all the slices in paprika. Place one slice on each salad plate. Arrange whole sardines on top of slices in "spokelike" pattern. Garnish with pimiento in center. Serve with French dressing.

Hair Looks Healthier, Longer
Happy Sulfur-8 users report marvelous results in helping the most abused dry hair look softer, smoother and more lustrous. They are thrilled by the new beauty of their hair and have been telling friends about it. The fame of Sulfur-8 has grown so fast that already millions of jars have been sold. So, act fast when you notice those first warning signs of dryness in your hair and scalp. Get Sulfur-8 at the drug store right away.

He also helped to establish the first standard four color newspaper supplements in the Negro field, namely The Courier's four color magazine and four color comic supplements.

"IT IS MY humble opinion," states Mr. Black, "that the surface has not yet been scratched insofar as securing highest quality advertising for the Negro press is concerned. I am happy to be playing a part in the opening up of new accounts for this field."

Carnival-Fair To Benefit Cheer Fund, Flanner House

Fun galore is in store for young and old at the Holiday Fair and Carnival sponsored by the Ten Young Men's club at 16th and Northwestern, during the week, June 21 through 26.

Toboggan rides, merry-go-round, ferris wheel, sky loopers, and a variety of side show attractions in gaily colored carnival setting with overtones of lilted music will help weave the magic spell of good clean recreation that every normal person loves.

The carnival shows will be staged by a group of experienced and efficient out-door show promoters, the Bakers United Shows, favorites throughout the national fair and carnival circuits. The equipment is the finest and patrons are fully protected by insurance.

The week-long program is being promoted on a charity-civic basis, the beneficiaries being the Flanner House activities and The Indianapolis Christmas Cheer Fund, which assists hundreds of needy families at Christmas and other times.

The fair ground will be Arthur Taylor is the club president. The fair is the club's pre-empted early each day to accommodate youngsters who were released from school this week.

Evansville NAACP Youth Crown "Royalty"; Member's Drive Extended

EVANSVILLE — While the Evansville NAACP Youth Council closed its popularity contest recently with the crowning of a "king" and "queen," the adult chapter extended its membership drive to June 27.

The Freedom King and Queen popularity contest closed last week with the largest amount of money reported by Dorothy Carter, Shirley Jean Lawler, Linda Bowles, Paulette Pore and Ann Gold. The three highest will be given a trip to Gary and Chicago on Saturday.

Preston Loving brought in the highest amount among boys and was crowned "Freedom King."

The queen is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Carter, 2625 5th avenue, and an Evansville union secretary. The king is the son of Mrs. Marie Loving, 609 Olive. Shirley Jean is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas McCreary, 518 S. Governor.

Both Preston and Shirley Jean are third grade pupils at the Chestnut-Walnut school of Miss Willie Effie Thomas, state NAACP Youth Council director.

At this writing $336 had been reported in the adult chapter's membership drive, representing 183 minimum memberships. A quota of 500 members was set by the national office.

The Evansville branch opened its 1954 membership drive at Carver Center on May 17, and June 1 was set as the closing date with the awarding of an all expense-paid trip to Dallas to attend the national convention of the NAACP, June 28-July 4.

Miss Willie Effie Thomas was winner of the trip, reporting $127.50. In the "Flight for Freedom" contest Miss Thomas represented the Delta C. and S. Airline.

Valparaiso University Graduates Two Nigerians in '54 Class of 210

VALPARAISO—Among the 210 Valparaiso University graduates on May 30, there were two Negro students—both native Nigerians. They are Hanson Udo Akpabio and Asuquo Akpan Obot.

Although neither Akpabio nor Obot has made any definite plans, both intend to go on to graduate schools. They plan to return to Nigeria and serve as teachers after completing graduate study in America.

AKPABIO AND OBOT attended Valparaiso University for three years, beginning in September, 1951. Before coming to Valparaiso, Obot had studied for four years in the Nigerian Teachers' Training Center, and he had taught elementary school for six years.

Akpabio also had been a teacher previously in their home town of Uyo in Nigeria, West Africa. Both men are members of the Lutheran Church of Nigeria, the same church body whose American members own Valparaiso University.

They were recommended to the school by Rev. Justus P. Kretzmann, a Lutheran missionary to Nigeria who is a brother of Valparaiso's president, Dr. O. P. Kretzmann.

They attended Valparaiso on scholarships provided by the university.

OBOT MAJORED in history and geography in college. He was a member of Gamma Theta Upsilon, the national honorary geography society, and of Gamma Delta, a national Lutheran students' fraternity.

Akpabio majored in history and in government at Valparaiso. He was a member of the International Relations club and of Pi Sigma Alpha, national honorary political science fraternity. Akpabio served as president of the local Beta Nu chapter of Pi Sigma Alpha in his senior year.

New $70,000 Muncie Pool Open To All

MUNCIE—Rev. G. R. Malory, president of the Muncie Branch NAACP, announced this week that the new $70,000 Phillips swimming pool will be opened here on a non-discriminatory, non-segregated basis.

The fair policy of the municipal pool represents a victory by the Muncie branch and the state legal redress committee of the NAACP, represented by Attorneys Julius Judding of Richmond and Rufus C. Kuykendall and Willard Ransom, Indianapolis.

The legal redress committee filed a petition in February of his year with the mayor and park board of Muncie demanding that the pool, the old municipal pool, be opened to all and the discriminatory practices of the park board be dropped.

While the city officials have not ruled directly on the Tuhey pool issue, their action in the Phillips pool case indicates that the Muncie branch's campaign and the petition produced the partial victory.

The Tuhey pool petition is still being pushed by the state legal redress committee, and a hearing on the issue has been requested again.

Rev. Malory congratulated Mayor Joseph Barclay and the city officials of Muncie in declaring themselves on the Phillips pool issue but stated "We in the NAACP want a clear declaration on Tuhey pool also."

The new Phillips pool is located in a mixed area, and the personnel working there is to be mixed.

The Muncie NAACP is now in its membership drive, and all interested citizens are urged to join the organization.

Evansville's Oldest Minister Sets Anniversary

By WILLIE EFFIE THOMAS

EVANSVILLE — Rev. D. C. Weaver, Evansville's oldest minister, will mark a double celebration June 13-20 in recognition of his 83rd birthday and his 62nd anniversary in the ministry.

Rev. Weaver, an evangelist minister and Recorder agent, is noted for his work in churches of various denominations.

Rev. R. H. Hambleton will be master of ceremonies for the series of programs, each of which will bring an outstanding speaker. The local quartet union, of which Rev. Weaver is a founder, will participate.

Homecoming was held at Mc-

Farland Baptist Church last Sunday, with Rev. W. R. Brown, pastor of New Hope Baptist Church, delivering the sermon and his choir furnishing music. The New Hope usher board and many members of the congregation were present. Mrs. W. R. Brown made a short talk.

Dr. L. A. McIntyre, pastor of McFarland Baptist Church, preached the ordination sermon on May 30 at Lanier Baptist Church, Louisville, when four ministers studying for degrees at Simmons University were ordained. Dr. M. B. Lanier, president emeritus of Simmons University, is pastor of the church.

Ordained were Revs. Jackson Rucker, Charles Douglas and Johnnie Jones, Evansville, and Rev. James Carmil, Indianapolis.

Several Louisville ministers made inspiring talks, and each candidate was presented with a Bible. Evansville residents attending the ordination were Mesdames L. A. McIntyre, Jackson Rucker, Charles Douglas and Johnnie Jones and Miss W. E. Thomas.

an NAACP membership.

Dr. Lincoln B. Hale, noted for his work toward furthering interracial and intercultural progress in Evansville, has resigned as president of Evansville College to become head of an economic mission to Israel for the Foreign Operations Administration of the state department.

Under his leadership there has been no noticeable segregation or discrimination on the campus.

THE THIRD GRADE PUPILS at the Chestnut-Walnut school visited the Evansville Mesker zoo and park recently and enjoyed a basket lunch picnic. They were accompanied by their teachers, Mrs. Mary Ella Hart and the Misses Allouise Jaxon and Willie Effie Thomas, and the school nurse, Mrs. Maria Persons.

The Chestnut-Walnut school's last faculty meeting of the year was highlighted by a review, summarization and evaluation of the monthly faculty meetings of the year, made by Alfred D. Wiley and Miss W. E. Thomas. The theme was "Social Studies for Developing Social Maturity."

The teachers' lounge was decorated with American beauty roses for each teacher to take as a souvenir and May baskets of nuts and dried refreshments. The faculty and guests had dinner at the Gun Club last Friday.

Non-Segregation And Teachers

One of the most important points that the nation will have to face up to in "de-segregating" the schools is the employment and assignment of teachers without regard to race, creed or color.

In our opinion, the shibboleth that Negro teachers can't teach white pupils has been given a mortal blow by the recent Supreme Court decision.

While this question was not before the court and thus was not ruled on, the same reasoning followed by the justices in outlawing segregation of pupils must inevitably put an end to the segregation of teachers.

And we are confident that the NAACP will act soon to bring this matter before the high tribunal.

There is no occasion for any citizens to start holding their noses at this prospect, as if it were a dose of castor oil. It will prove a blessing in solving one of America's most grievous problems—the so-called teacher shortage.

STATISTICS REVEAL that there is no real shortage of teachers at present. But there is a shortage of qualified white teachers, while numbers of well-qualified Negro teachers are looking for jobs.

Rigid adherence to the color line in the face of this situation has brought about a lowering of the quality of education in the white and mixed schools.

Thus in 1950 in North Carolina, for instance, 98 percent of the Negro teachers had college degrees, but only 88 percent of the white teachers had them.

In the same year North Carolina employed 1,707 new white teachers, though its colleges graduated only 704 qualified teachers for elementary schools. By contrast, on the Negro side 460 teachers were graduated but only 359 employed.

IT IS NOT NECESSARY to fly to North Carolina, of course, to see this lowering of standards coupled with a tragic waste of teaching talent. Right here in Indianapolis we are informed that the school day will be shortened for thousands of pupils next year, while the pupil load per teacher will be increased.

Shorn of its fancy trappings this plan amounts to the cheapening of education for these boys and girls. It is being sold largely on the basis of the "teacher shortage."

Yet it is notorious that since the integration of schools began here five years ago, hardly any new Negro teachers have been hired. Only a handful of Negroes are now teaching in mixed schools.

The coming integration of teachers will enable Indianapolis and the rest of the nation to give American children that first-class education which is their birthright, while at the same time really teaching democracy by practicing it.

Dixie Paper Blasts Probe of Bunche

In the quizzing of Dr. Ralph Bunche about his loyalty, the current "witch hunt" has gone so far that even a white Mississippi newspaper protested.

The Jackson Daily News, which has not said too many kind things about Negroes in the past, was shocked at the investigation of Dr. Bunche and editorialized in part as follows:

"How silly can government get, anyway? The United States Loyalty Board has issued a statement that Dr. Bunche is completely loyal. Of course he is. It was ridiculous for the Loyalty Board to make an investigation of Dr. Bunche, and to smear him by even an inference that he might be disloyal."

"The mere fact that Dr. Bunche appeared before the Loyalty Board to answer questions will cause thoughtless people to wonder why he was summoned."

"We wonder if the men who compose our loyalty boards and investigating Congressional committees have ever thought of what it means to a loyal and law-abiding citizen to be called before one of these probing bodies."

"The mere call to testify is sufficient to stir the suspicions of many citizens. They conclude forthwith that something is wrong with the witness, else no board would be interested in examining him. To be called upon to bear witness before one of these investigating committees is tantamount to a positive indictment of loyalty in the minds of myriads of people."

"Dr. Bunche is a great and useful American who has served his country with distinguished ability. He should not have been smeared in this senseless fashion."

To all of which we say "Amen"—being one of the very few times we have agreed with a white newspaper from the Deep South.

Let's Have Action In Transit Emergency

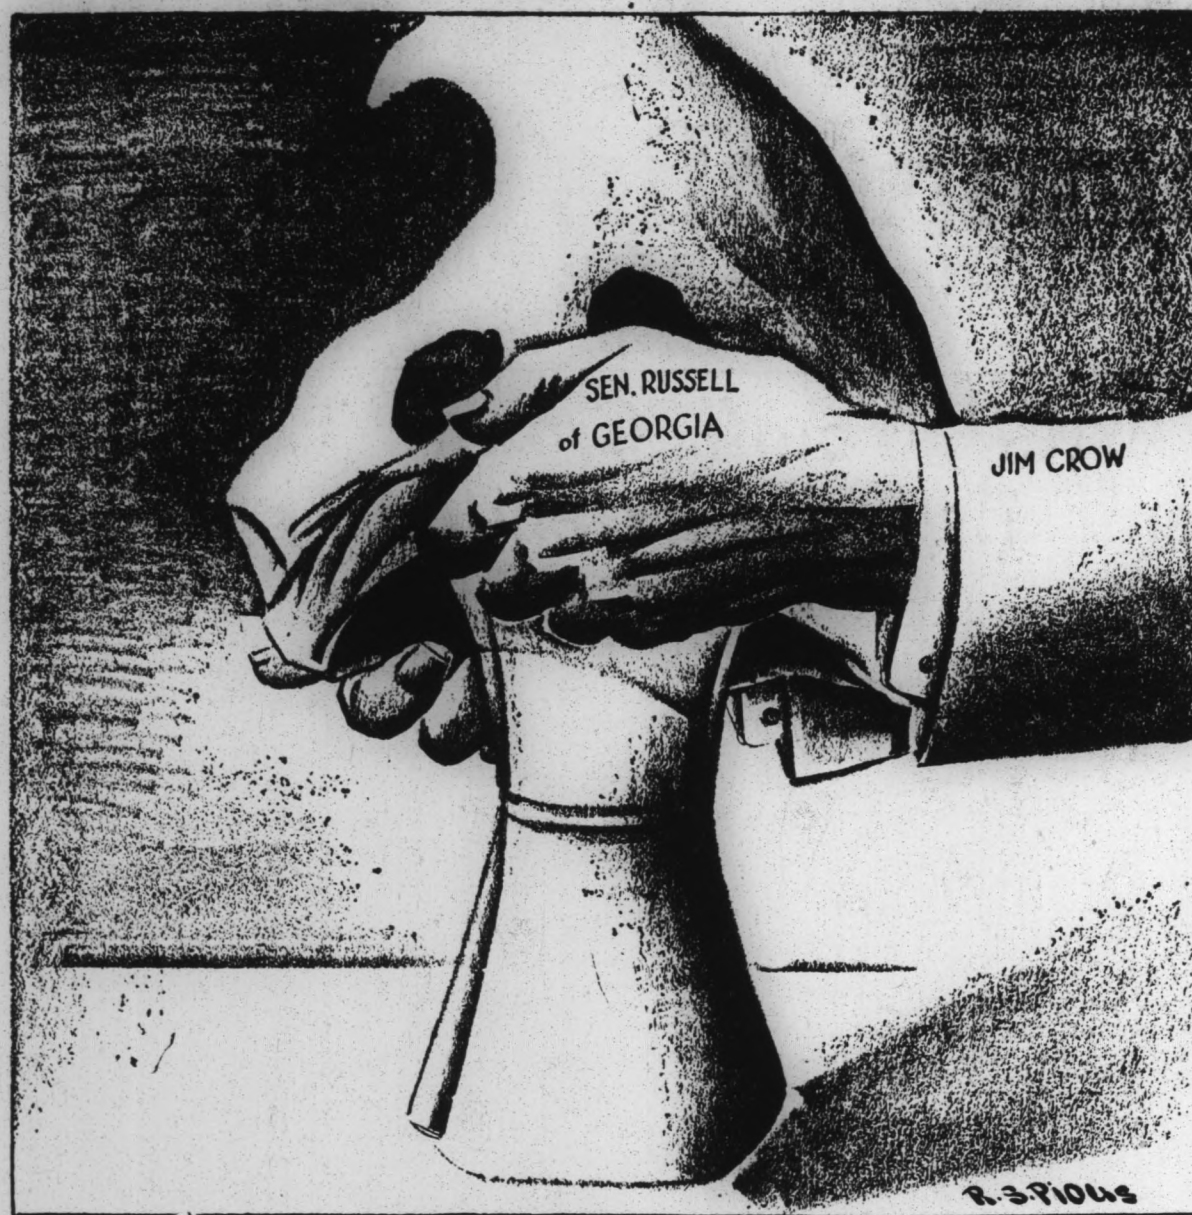

The comparative calm with which some of our leading citizens are viewing the dragged-out transit strike seems to indicate that they do not appreciate the hardships and inconveniences to the rank-and-file of Naptowners.

In fact, though two-car families and individuals with chauffeurs have suffered least, there is hardly a resident of Indianapolis who has not been put to intolerable discomfort. Business, home life and all other activities have been disrupted. Even the little children—those who are still compelled to attend segregated schools and are transported there by bus—have had their schooling disturbed for six whole weeks. It is a bitter commentary that a way could not be found to transport these kids, who do not want to and should not have to be transported in the first place.

While the heaviest burden has fallen on those who depend on public transportation, the drivers of cars also have been put to a severe strain in bumper-to-bumper traffic and clogged parking facilities.

Moreover, it is obvious by now that there can be no easy solution to the strike. The company has in effect pleaded bankruptcy, and is saying it could not give good service even if the men were to go back on the old terms.

The problem facing Indianapolis is one of finding a new organization to transport our citizens—either some form of public ownership, or another private company. This process appears to be a lengthy and involved one. Why are the Mayor and City Council not acting to take the first steps on what is bound to be a long trail?

"STILL THINKING IN THE PAST"

MISCELLANEOUS MUSINGS

By T. C. Johnson

Solution of the Race Problem

A few days ago the subject of Westbrook Pegler's column was SOLUTION OF THE RACE PROBLEM IS ON THE WAY. What he wrote may be revealing and interesting.

Fifty years ago when he was a pupil at Chicago's H. O. RACE G. R. E. E. L. Y. SCHOOL, the two Miller sisters and Willie White were the only colored pupils attending that school. The colored boys and girls got along well but both they and the white pupils were aware of a "difference." Pegler did not say what that difference was.

The Miller sisters' parents operated a small moving van line and a furniture storage business.

The Millers were of good repute, being as courteous as anybody in the school or the neighborhood, and the sisters were popular with the teachers, all of whom were women.

PEGLER KNEW the older Miller girl, Lovelyn, who ranked among the smartest pupils in the school, being especially good at cube root, algebra and geometry.

Pegler remembered Willie White as having won many fights behind the sign-board and as having finally been vanquished by a puny German boy who lacked practice or skill at fist fighting.

The white boy's dangling yellow curls were smeared with blood and he cried throughout the contest, which lasted from the close of school till dark, but he hammered away doggedly until Willie yelled "enough."

DURING THE MANY YEARS following school days Pegler knew and heard nothing of Lovelyn until he recently saw her name as a columnist of the CHICAGO DEFENDER. But last fall a New York Negro journalist, Julius Adams, called to inform Pegler that Lovelyn was in the city and wanted to know if he would like to see her.

Pegler had met Adams on Diney's campaign train in 1944 and their association thereafter had been indistinct and intermittent.

THE WHITE MAN, nevertheless, says that he learned something of the colored man's difficulties from his colored acquaintance—such as that the Negro does not wish to be treated condescendingly. (That is true of some colored persons but by no means of all, for many actually encourage such treatment.)

He also declares that according to Adams colored people have shown strong political opposition to the manner in which Roosevelt Democrats have exploited their condition, "including La Boca, who always practiced segregation in her households and, after her automobile wreck, explained that she dozed off because she had nobody to talk to although there were two Negro servants in the back seat."

PEGLER ADMITS suffering from self-consciousness when he met his old school-mate, the former Lovelyn Miller, now Mrs. John Evans, because he never before had eaten in public with a colored person. She still lives in Chicago, is gray-haired, the grandmother of several persons and works for a good packing company.

They talked about what

Pegler says is the chief subject of discussion in all talks between colored and white persons—the race problem.

Unfortunately he is nearly 100% correct in that respect.

HE EXPRESSED no opinion as to whether or not it should be that way.

It is to be hoped, however, that eventually colored and white persons will be able to converse just as human beings. Mrs. Evans deplored the fact that there was "a parting of the ways" between her and childhood school friends at the period of adolescence.

In a recent talk with Adams, Pegler agreed with the view that the Northern abolitionists and carpet-baggers were interested in the Negro only as political assets and cheap labor and that forty years ago the Negro was segregated as rigidly in the North as he was in the South.

HE CONTENTS that "only in the last 8 or 10 years have we begun to see a few white persons, hiding their self-consciousness, in the company of Negroes in public."

Pegler feels that white persons should be willing to employ and work with Negroes, while Negroes "on their part should change their personal attitude."

He declares further: "I firmly believe that the time is at hand when we will have to lift that iron curtain that has shut off thirteen million native Americans from desirable jobs or face a blood-bath."

DISCLAIMING any prophetic power, he says: "I do believe we are on the way to the improvement of the only minority . . . getting the worst of it."

The South Begins At Home

For the most part since the epoch-making decision of the U. S. Supreme Court outlawing segregation in the nation's schools, Northern opinion-makers have studied the effect that the ruling is having and is going to have on the backward portion of the country lying south of the Ohio River.

They have concerned themselves with the seven-teen states whose laws demand segregation and the four who give legal permission for segregated schools.

These writers and radio and television commentators choose to ignore good states like Indiana, Illinois and Ohio, where segregated schools exist either in defiance or in utter disregard of the law.

Or that in those states the legal foundations for segregating pupils according to race have been torn down only in very recent years.

IT WOULD SEEM that these purveyors of public opinion and the officials of school corporations in these more civilized states are taking a cue from South Carolina's governor and American U. N. Delegate, James F. Byrnes, who when he was Secretary of State, wanted to experiment with democracy in the Balkans in order to see whether it would work in his native state.

Or the could perhaps be emulating American and European Christians who have been exporting their religion to Africa and Asia while leaving the home front very short in supply.

OR MAYBE they are like the vast majority of Northern Negroes who pity their Southern brothers because of the segregation and discrimination to which they are daily subjected without taking time out to realize that they are in the same boat.

Whatever the reason, most of the local opinion sleuths have come up with the alibi that "in Indiana we have no problem since our schools were integrated in 1949." The meaning of the word "integration" as they use it cannot be found in the dictionary!

IT SHOULD BE clear to them that inasmuch as there are schools in Indiana, Ohio and Illinois which are Negro when it comes to pupils and faculties and that there are one hundred percent white schools in communities in these states in localities in which Negro live and that for the most part, Negro employed personnel do not serve in capacities above that of principal of all-Negro schools, the word integration covers a multitude of sins.

How else could they explain that in Indiana alone there are three all-Negro high schools, and in Indianapolis twelve all-Negro elementary schools and twenty-three all-white elementary schools?

AND HOW does the fact that less than three percent of the Negro teachers in Indianapolis teach outside the ghettoized schools jibe with the assertion that we have no problems?

And does the absence of Negroes in the administrative offices of the schools of Indiana including the office of the State Superintendent of Public Instruction present an argument in favor of the contention that Indiana has no school problem affected by the high court's decision?

QUITE OBVIOUSLY there is an unadmitted lag in the democratization of Hoosier schools and the bias and arrogance of the white majority is not wholly to blame.

Almost equally blameworthy is the apathy of the Hoosier Negro minority.

Most local Negroes have adopted the attitude of "let George do it" or in this case "let the NAACP do it." And they are content to leave the job of securing for them their basic democratic rights to others without turning a tap or spending a cent.

These same Negroes want and need no help when it comes to getting the things that they really want whether it be cars, houses, summer cabins or swank parties.

THIS APATHY does not mean that Negroes do not want integrated schools.

In many instances they have been lulled into a sense of false security and they actually buy the claim that we already have them.

In other cases they feel that since we are so much better off in that regard than the Negroes of Georgia or South Carolina, we have reached the heaven of complete integration.

IT IS APPARENT that we here in Indiana need to wake up and face reality and before we get too anxious about the progress of humanity and decency in the South, we should remind ourselves that really the South, like the proverbial charity, though it should not, actually begins at home.

BETWEEN THE LINES

By Dean Gordon Hancock (ANP)

Victory for the White Man

The Supreme Court's decision recently handed down is heartening! It struck a death blow to segregation as a legal weapon to be wielded against the hapless Negroes.

But we miss the import and importance of the decision if we see it merely as a victory for the hard-pressed Negroes of the nation and the world.

It was a victory for the cause of righteousness in the earth. To regard it merely as a victory for Negroes is to miss the real point.

Insulin has been found to be tremendously effective in the treatment of certain types of insanity or dementia, and its therapeutic effects are manifested in the shock it gives the body and mind. The effect produced by the Supreme Court's decision will amount to a shock to certain anti-Negro elements in the South, but its ultimate effects will be salutary.

The ravings and rantings of such as Talmadge and his son be gone with the wind, for even Jimmy Byrnes was considerably restrained when the fateful tidings were spread. In fact, the Southern whites were considerably more calm under the pressure than would have been expected. The fact is, Southern whites are not as bad as Byrnes and Talmadge would have the world believe. In fact, the Southern whites need a higher type of leadership than is being currently supplied.

It was pathetic to hear a dyed-in-the-wool Southerner declare over the radio that he believed in the equality of the races and his chief reason for wanting segregation was it was desired by both races. When a rank Southerner finds his reason for favoring segregation in the wishes of the whites and Negroes, we have the anti-Negro South on the run.

Since when did the Negroes' wishes come to be so important? It may be true that here and there we may find a few Negroes who will pretend to prefer segregation but they are talking under duress of the severest sort. The Negroes who claim even under duress that they prefer darkness to light and slavery to freedom are either severely ignorant or dangerously deceitful.

The Negroes who make such profession are only trying to be agreeable like the slavery time Negro who went to the post office to bring back news from the front during the Civil War. The news was going from bad to worse and the Northern armies were rounding up for the kill. But the Negro slave, in order to be agreeable when asked by his mistress how the war was going, replied daily, "The Yankees are retreating forward and the Southern armies are advancing backward."

There is some such psychological maneuver in the mind of the Negro who claims that he favors segregation. Moreover, it would be a disgrace to the South to have so oppressed and repressed and suppressed and dominated and subjugated the Negro as to make him prefer segregation.

The Negro of the South is the South's own creation. Whereas the South takes credit for his advancement, it must also take the blame and shame for his retardation. As a creature of the South's creation, the Negro is what the South has made him, no more and no less!

It was tremendously interesting to hear over the radio a Southerner say that he wanted segregation because Negroes, like white people, prefer the company of their own people. There is much truth in the assertion; but if whites prefer whites and Negroes prefer Negroes, why not let nature take its course instead of making segregation laws to compel each group to do what it is claimed they both want to do?

Generally speaking, Negroes prefer Negroes but in specific situations, they do not. Although for a general thing the associations with Negroes are to be preferred, there are times when it is far more preferable to be associated with those of the opposite race when there is a likelihood of not to be found in one's own race.

In other words, a decent Negro would prefer the association of a decent white person to that of an indecent Negro; and it is equally true that there are whites who under ordinary circumstances prefer the association of whites; but would rather far to associate with decent Negroes than with indecent whites. The false presumption of segregation laws is that we must be forced to mingle with those of a given race even where there is no kinship of spirit.

Much and serious thinking and little talking by whites and Negroes would facilitate matters greatly! SO MOTE IT BE!

Can it be found? Yes, if we have faith and work to that end.

We of the high school graduates are going to the top and we hope others will follow. First, we must be men and women of character and intellect. Personality depends in part on the training that the school and home will give us.

Occupation is very important to our community as well as to ourselves. It may demand at the beginning, perseverance in our work which will steadily make us qualified for greater responsibility. The door of opportunity will open for us if we be men and women of character.

Oh God, help us to find a place in the world.

ALONG THE COLONIAL FRONT

Gagging Freedom of the Press

COLOR BAR ON JOURNALISTS IN SOUTHERN RHODESIA

LONDON (ANP) — The Times correspondent in Bulawayo, Southern Rhodesia, reports:

"The Rhodesian Guild of journalists, a professional association which represents newspaper editorial staffs throughout Rhodesia, has been instructed by the appropriate Southern Rhodesia government officer to amend its constitution in such way as to forbid the guild to accept African members."

The Guild of Journalists, at its congress held at Que Que during the weekend, announced that it would protest to the government on the subject. The effect of the government instruction is to compel the Guild to remove from membership M. M. Hove, the guild's only African member. He is the editor of an African newspaper of moderate views, published in Southern Rhodesia and circulating throughout the Central African Federation. Hove is also a member of the federal parliament to which he was elected, largely by European voters, last year.

"The government's action trade unionists in Southern Rhodesia, who maintain that its effect must be to compel Africans who desire to enter trade unions or professional associations to press the government to approve the establishment of African trade unions separate from the existing European unions. Such a situation exists in Northern Rhodesia, where trade unions are all-European or all-African."

"In Southern Rhodesia a body of responsible European opinion, both inside and outside the trade union movement, takes the view that as it is impossible to deny Africans the right to trade union membership indefinitely, the law should be amended to allow them to join existing European unions, and to progress to the status of artisans and craftsmen in due time when they have satisfied union requirements, in the same way as Europeans."

"The anomaly of the existing position is well illustrated in the Hove affair, which suggests that an African may be a member of a parliament which legislates for both Europeans and Africans, and yet may not belong to a trade or professional association of the type of the Rhodesian journalists' guild."

The Times correspondent does not mention that a Southern Rhodesian African may serve as a soldier—they are now recruiting Africans as soldiers—but not join a trades or professional union either. But the effect is even worse than that as it means that Africans will be denied the services of professional men like doctors of medicine, dentists and others who will refuse to accept a color bar on an honorable profession dedicated by oath to serve humanity.

The action of the Southern Rhodesian government is proof that it is moving very fast towards the South African policy toward all colored people.

By excluding Africans from the Journalists' guild, it is hoped to bar them from the implied guarantee of authenticity which membership in a journalists' guild confers on its members—at least among journalists in most parts of the world. It is a move typical of colorphobic thinking in African and I can almost see the finger of the type of man I use to meet in the old days in it. It is the cunning of a typical backblooded mentality, born and bred 'way back and with little knowledge of the modern world. Unfortunately there are too many people of this type in the British Commonwealth and Empire as well as in the U. S.

This type hopes that by closing all avenues by which the voices of Africans can be heard in the world and by distorting their own versions of events, their acts of suppression and exploitation can be concealed.

ANP readers will have read by challenges often enough. And in every case, I have been right and the government wrong in the reports—100 percent right is a pretty good average.

Intimidation has been used to try to deter writers from investigating that which is happening in Africa and from publishing news. I myself was intimidated in Nigeria and have suffered because of what they call my pro-African sympathies expressed in my reports. So I know what is happening in that direction.

The remedy is clear. Protests won't shake the color-phobes; hundreds of millions of people have been protesting against South Africa's savage inhuman color bars, just as they have been protesting against the color bars in the deep South of the United States.

A United States of Africa, with Africans in power, is still the best method of curing the ills of whites and blacks and browns in Africa.

Olympic Atmosphere at AAU Meet

Quite a throng of celebrities at the state AAU track meet at Tech's field last Saturday. Heading the list, of course, was MILT CAMPBELL of Plainfield, N. J., and Indiana University, the U. S. decathlon champion and runner-up to Bob Mathias in the 1952 Olympics.

The magnificent 20-year-old set a 14.8 record in the high hurdles and won the 100-yard dash in .09.9. Each time he used a falling finish, with the upper part of his body bent forward to reach the tape first. Unfortunately in the hundred he went on falling, taking a spill that closed his activities for the day.

Though the Golden Freshman said he was not in shape—he has run the century in .09.6—this scribe will vow at once that he looks like the greatest athlete we have ever seen. He is a king-sized man, standing a good 6'3" and weighing 210. Wonderfully proportioned, he has very powerful thigh muscles that explain the great strides with which he runs.

"I worked out only four days for this meet," Campbell said. "I was out for spring football and got water on the elbow, and they advised me not to work out for track." Milt probably has been the recipient of more glory as a teenager than any other youth in America's history. He has a cheerful manner but is extremely serious about any event in which he takes part.

THEN THERE WAS another I. U. freshman who likely will be sharing headlines with Campbell for the next three years—HALLIE BRYANT, and WITH A BROKEN ARM!

Our heart skipped a beat when we caught sight of The Comet with his right arm in a cast. He reassured us that it was a broken metacarpal bone in the hand suffered about four weeks earlier, and that the cast was due to come off Monday. That was the same day as final exams, and there was much kidding about Hallie not being able to write.

Strangely enough, the break occurred in a collision with Campbell—during a game of softball! SITTING ALONGSIDE Hallie was the current high school celebrity, BILL MASON of Attucks, who will represent Indianapolis in next week's Indiana-Kentucky basketball game. He said the drills will start this Saturday, June 12. "What kind of game do you think Coach Angus Nicolson will throw at them?" we asked. "We were frankly angling for the answer 'Cat-and-mouse game,' but to our surprise both the "No. 34's" said, "Run."

"Plump can run too," Mason reminded us, with a look on his face as if he was remembering that Attucks-Milan contest.

Also in the group was WALLY CHOICE, sophomore basketball speedster for the Hurryin' Hoosiers last season. Wally hails from Montclair, N. J., and incidentally if you weren't aware of it, there is a regular invasion of the Hoosier state by Jerseyites. A pleasant kind of invasion.

Besides Campbell and Choice there was JOHN ROBERSON, the Big Ten shot put champion, who won the event with a heave of 48 feet. And there was HENRY FOSTER, Campbell's high school chum at Plainfield, who played freshman basketball for Butler last winter.

WE WERE GLAD to shake the hand of CLEVELAND HARP, 6'6" ex-Tiger who's back for the summer after playing basketball with Marquies Haynes' team. We thought Cleveland looked taller. At that he wasn't as tall as a visitor, WILT CHAMBERLAIN of Overbrook high, Philadelphia, who is TALLER THAN WALTER DUKES. The lad stands 6'11½" and swears he looked down on Dukes when they met.

Down on the field stellar performances were being turned in by GREGORY BELL, formerly of Terre Haute Garfield, who broad-jumped for a record 24' 1½"; ED DYE BROWN of Indiana, who pole-vaulted to a record 13' 3¾"; JOAN TERRY of Plummer House, who won the women's 100 with a record 12.3; LEN ROBINSON of I.U., who set a 440 record of .48.5; and DON WARD, who ran third in that race; BREALON DONALDSON, likewise of I.U., third in the pole vault and broad jump; and some spunky high school kids, JIM HILL, JAL McCLERKIN and DICK OWENS of Shortridge and KEN ACKLES of Tech.

School 26 Wins Junior High Track Crown

Girls' victories paid off for School 26 as it won the city junior high track championship in the final meet last week at Tech. Feminine members brought home three blue ribbons as the squad racked up 27 points to edge its perennial rival, School 42.

Mary Adams of the victors set a new record of 88" in the Class A basketball far throw.

Lucy Butler won the same event in Class B, while Beverly Malone won the Class B standing broad jump.

Edward Vaughn, however, was the champs' individual high scorer with 8 points. He also set a record with a Class A football far throw of 149'3".

Edward got his other points with second place in the running high jump.

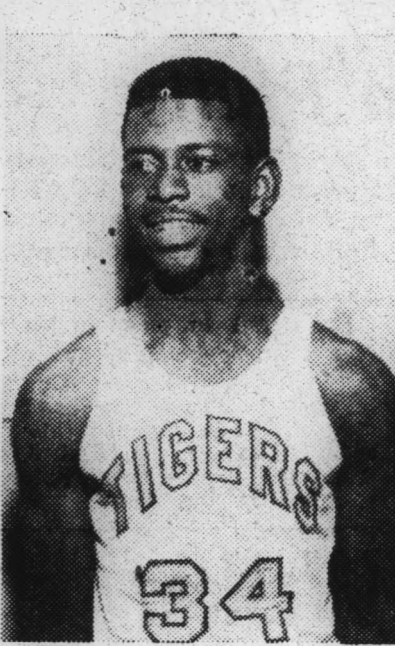

The Class A boys' relay team finished third.

Other members of the School 26 squad were Gerald Brown, Maurice Johnson, Tommy McGee, Eleanor McCoy, Rosemary Weather and Leal Brown. The coaches were Ellis Diggs and Mrs. Nancy Johnson.

School 26 was runner-up last year to School 42, which also won the title in 1952.

WITH 54 SCHOOLS competing, point standings were:

School 26, 27; School 43, 23; School 56, 19; School 76, 18½; Attucks 8th Grade, 17 1/5; School 34, 14; School 84, 13; Tech 8th Grade, 13; School 41, 12; School 37, 11; School 45, 10½; School 72, 10; School 80, 10; School 3, 9; School 68, 9; School 57, 5 1/5; School 86, 5; School 87, 5; School 64, 4; School 66, 4.

THAT'S OUR BOY: William "Plute" Mason represents Attucks on the Indiana All-Star aggregation that will meet Kentucky's finest on Saturday night, June 19, at Butler Fieldhouse. Mason follows in the footsteps of Howard Mitchell, Bob Jewell and Hallie Bryant. During the past season he wore the uniform number made famous by Hallie, "Old 34." (Recorder Photo by Jim Cummings)

Indians Stampede League

The Indianapolis Indians, battered and bent but farther ahead than ever, are coming home Friday, June 18, for a 24-day home stand during which they will play every opponent in the league.

Though their roster reads like a hospital list, the Tribesmen have continued winning on the road to the point where they held a 7-game lead over their closest pursuers, St. Paul and Louisville, on Wednesday.

So whopping was the Indians' margin that they needed to play the rest of the season only at a .544 clip to win the 90 games that were good enough for first place last year.

HARRY SIMPSON, the Tribe's "major league" center fielder, was reported drawing raves from the opposition fans for his sensational catches at Kansas City. On Sunday at Columbus, Harry joined the cripple brigade when he suffered a badly twisted ankle sliding into second.

Incidentally, the last we heard Simpson was looking for a furnished apartment or house for himself, wife and three youngsters.

Bad news came for rookie outfielder JOE CAFFIE when it was learned that his knee injury suffered while taking a shower in St. Paul May 21, is more serious than first believed. It is feared the speedster may be out another five or six weeks. He is not with the club, but here in Naptown taking treatments.

Pitcher DAVE HOSKINS was recalled to Cleveland despite an unimpressive 2-2 record here.

Handymen BILLY HARRELL has been seeing more action due to the banded-up roster.

SAM JONES' record remained at 3-2 after two inconclusive outings and a relief stint.

Satchel Paige pitched the first ten innings for the Harlem Globetrotters baseball team as they defeated the House of David last week at Victory Field before a shivering crowd of 755.

Vern Scott's double with the bases loaded in the top of the 12th inning gave the Trotters a 5-2 victory. The bewhiskered opponents scored all their runs off Paige. Underdog Ez Could Be First to Regain Title

By LUIX VIRGIL OVERBEA For ANP

Boxing fans hardly seem to realize that Thursday, June 17, will soon be here and on that evening boxing's most glamorous event, a world's heavyweight championship fight, will take place. Rocky Marciano will defend his crown against former king Ezzard Charles at Yankee Stadium.

Charles is a decided underdog at 4-1 odds, with few believing he can whip Marciano. Rocky is one of the most feared so-called one-punch sluggers in heavyweight ring history. He is a fighting machine with unusual stamina. These assets, most fans believe, will carry him to victory over Charles.

Charles is a boxer, not a colorful one, but a good one. Because of his age and recent slugging style, he is considered to be at a disadvantage against Rocky. With all these factors against him, many are likely to wonder why Charles even is allowed to get into the same ring with Marciano.

ABOUT FIVE YEARS AGO, the story was much the same as June 17. At that time Charles was younger, of course, but he was facing the once murderous fists of Joe Louis, who had come out of retirement seeking to regain the heavyweight championship. No one believed Charles had a chance.

The upstart champ, however, upset the dope. He took charge of the fight from the start and chopped the old champ down to size. Louis never was able to land one of his bombs.

Rocky is a crude fighter who takes a lot of punishment and keeps coming in. He throws sledgehammer blows that pound down the cutest of boxers. This is the type, however, against whom Charles is at his best.

This ringside believes the bout, though lacking the glamor of the old heavy title matches, nevertheless will be a good one—and that Charles definitely does have a chance to become the first heavyweight to regain the throne.

THE AVENOO IS A TRICKY STREET . . . We've seen 'em come and go along the main stem. . . . They blossom out overnight with the blessings of the downtown bosses. . . . Then all of a sudden — they fade away like a flower. . . . We have seen 'em sell whiskey and beer openly from their cars parked along the stem. . . . We have seen 'em sell baseball tickets and write numbers plus shooting craps and throwing 3-card monte along the drag—and shoutin' "H—I with the police, I'm tight downtown." We've heard 'em below "H—I with the newspapers." But sooner than they thought—somebody eased in and pulled the props from under 'em, and the next time we heard from 'em, they were in some distant city swingin' a thousand-leg or sweatin' bets. Remember, times change — the BOSS today might be the 'flunky' tomorrow. Who knows? So it pays to walk soft and talk soft. . . . Walkin' hard and talkin' loud will get you nowhere.

Brownell Says Court Rebuffs Communists

PASADENA, Cal.—The Supreme Court, in its antisegregation decision, effectively answered Communist claims of racial intolerance in America, Attorney General Herbert Brownell, Jr., declared last week.

In his talk before a YMCA fund raising dinner he said: "It should be clear to everyone, including the Communists that the United States has taken a long step to eliminate what President Eisenhower has described as any trace of second class citizenship."

NEW YORK (ANP)—Presents, citations and awards were given to Ella Fitzgerald at a party here last week in honor of the singer's 19th year in show business. People from all branches of the entertainment world turned out for the event to pay tribute to the "first lady of song." And "Queen" Ella responded by putting on one of her greatest performances. Among the songs she sang was "A-Tisket, a-Tasket," her first Decca recording. Helping to create the right mood for the occasion was the Louis Bellson quintet, which includes Bellson on drums and Charlie Shavers and Roy Eldridge on trumpets. . . . Hollywood (ANP)—Earl (Fatha) Hines (right), great pianist, has organized his first jazz band in three years. The new group, which began rehearsals last week, will not feature the Dixieland and progressive jazz music which Hines' other bands did.

FAYE "Shake a Hand" ADAMS and Joe Morris and his Apple Jackers orchestra will invade the Sunset dancery on Sunday nite, June 20, for a one-nite dance engagement. Miss Adams will also feature her latest songhits including "I'll Be True to You," etc. Advance tickets are now on sale at The Recorder office.

New York Tax Forces 143 Movies Out of Business

NEW YORK (ANP)—Protesting a new proposed five percent amusement tax considered for adoption to bolster New York's tottering finances, moving picture house operators have reported that within the past five or six years, 143 moving picture houses have been forced out of business.

Here in Harlem, the ancient Lincoln, which the late Florence Mills visited on her return from a triumphant tour, and which also spawned many famous performers, closed and closed down recently, joining such as the Odeon, Gem and Franklin, which survived the depression, but couldn't compete with TV.

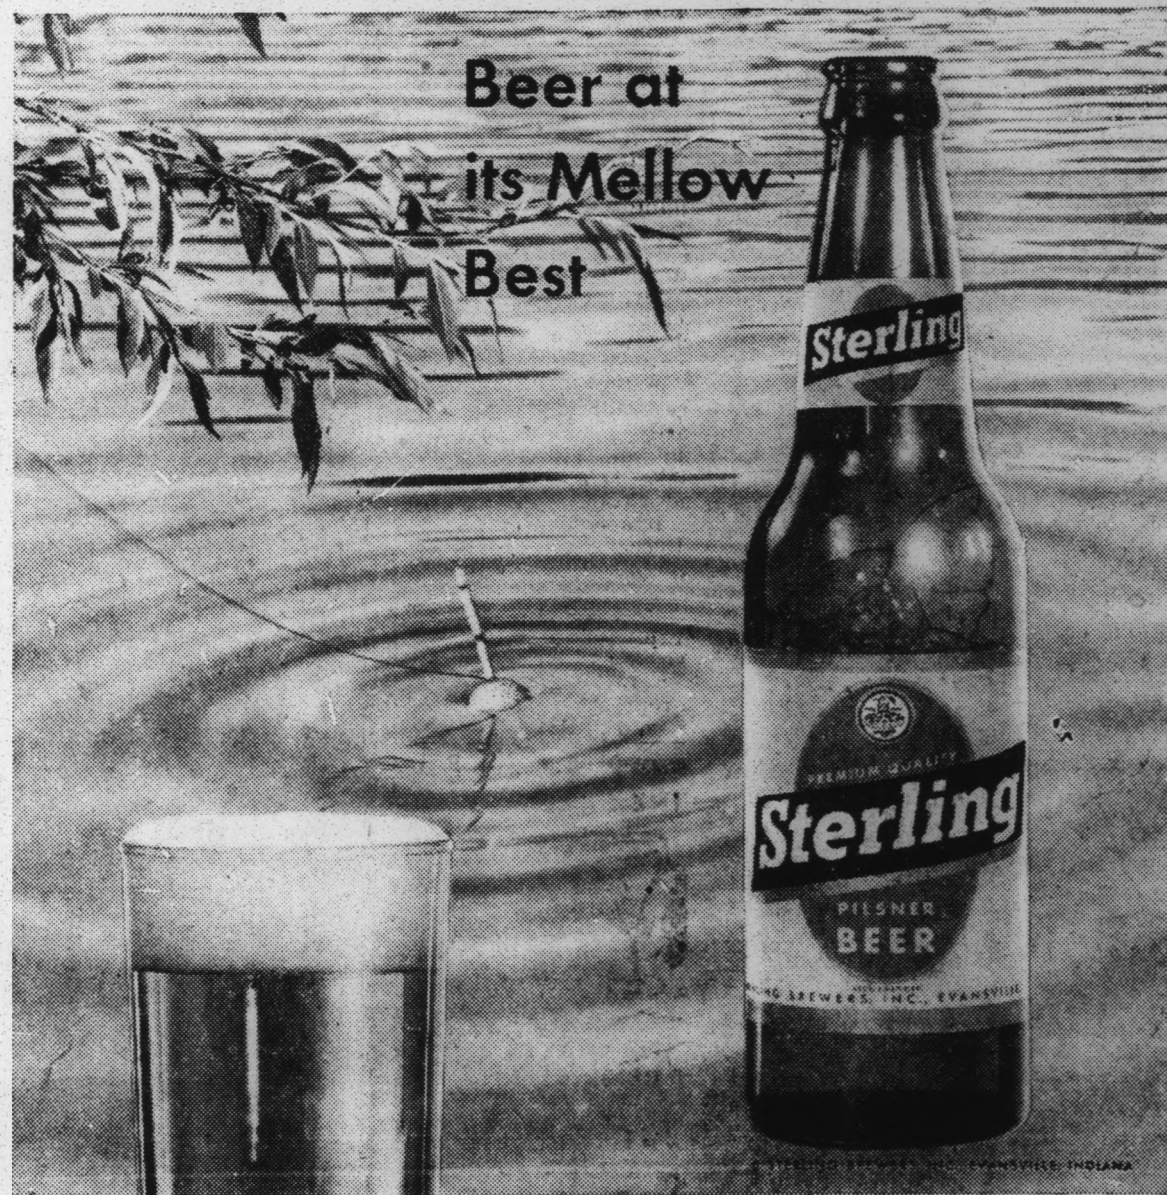

JOHN MARRIOTT (center) and Ruth Attaway recently had important featured roles on CBS Television, in the "Studio One" production of "Romney," a psychological mystery that probed the recesses of a frightened child's mind. Shown with them is Laurence Hugo, who played the child's tutor.

POOKEY JOHNSON

MUSICAL UPBEAT

By BOB WOMACK

EARLY DISCING RECALLED . . . The late Edward M. Favor, famous vaudeville comedian and character actor on the New York stage, is said to have been the first "professional" to make records.

Estella Louise Mann, an attractive brunette soprano, appears to have been the first woman to undertake a recording career. . . . In 1898 she owned the Lyric Record Company and sang cylinders to order. Ask for any song and Estella would sing it. There were no master records in those days, although a duplicating process had been developed, and artists had to sing numbers over and over.

ENRICO CARUSO was the first operatic star whose records sold well, but a comedian still living in Freeport, N. Y., and in good voice, was far and away the most popular recording artist of the "acoustic era." Records by the comedian, Billy Murray, probably outsold Caruso's 1000 to 1.

THE BEST COLLEGE DANCE BAND in the land blows for the students at City College of Los Angeles. That's the opinion expressed by band leaders Ray Anthony, Stan Kenton and Billy May, who, along with music critics George Simon and Barry Ulanov, comprised the panel of judges in the first annual National College Dance Band Contest, conducted by Metronome Magazine.

THE WINNING GROUP, selected from among the country's top collegiate outfits, is a seventeen-piece crew, rehearsed and led by Bob MacDonald, former arranger for Red Norvo.

NICKEL CLASSICS? Dr. John C. Kendel, vice president of the American Music Conference, believes the juke box can become a medium for symphony. He maintains that American youth has cultivated a taste for the classics in school hands and at civic symphony concerts. "Boxing" such music might be profitable, says Dr. Kendel.

HERE'S THE CURIOUS STORY behind Margaret Whiting's new record—The story of the missing publisher. Several months ago a publisher's representative left three new songs with a Capitol Records producer who was seeking new material for Miss Whiting. One of the songs was accepted. A recording session was scheduled and the disc was made. Then producer Lee Gillette discovered the publisher had failed to put his name on the song. With the platter scheduled for an early release, Capitol executives in Hollywood and New York began phoning music publishers. . . . But three days and 100 phone calls later, the result was: No publisher could remember having handled the song. The decision was to release the record and let the publisher come forward and claim it.

HOWEVER, a New York song-writer named Matt Duby got wind of the manhunt. Co-author of the song in question, he had no trouble locating the publisher—George Lee, Inc. of New York. The irony of the incident lies in the title of the song—and all concerned swear it's just one of those things—"Where Did He Go?"

KNOW YOUR MUSIC . . . "The Lost Chord," one of the most successful songs of its time, reveals a very touching story. Sir Arthur Sullivan, watching at the bedside of his talented actor-brother, who was dying, chanced to read a verse written by Adelaide Ann Proctor, and was much impressed with it. As he read it over and over again, he decided to write the musical equivalent to it. A sheet of music being at hand, he began to compose. Slowly the music took shape and his determination to finish the song became more definite. When it was finally completed, he offered it to the great publishers, Chapel of London, and when they refused it, took it to Boosey and Company, who accepted it. One million copies were sold the first year—(Sylvan Breyn).

SONNY JOHNSON, drums, who recently left Lionel Hampton and his orchestra in Chicago, is back home sporting a new combo. I have been informed that he is already on a local steady gig. . . . Buddy Parker has received his notice at the 39 Club, so it has been rumored. . . . Bobby Campbell, board benter, is making a fast comeback. . . . Pookey Johnson and crew waited awhile on last Saturday night at LeRoy Tyler's Keystone Club in Kokomo. . . . Hampton Sisters going great at Jim and Hy's nite club on Meridian st. . . .

FRED SARGENT, local talent scout, has advised me that he will open a theatrical booking agency here as soon as he receives the go-ahead signal from the International Musicians headquarters. Fred helped start the now famous Counts, the nation's newest recording stars, on the road to success. . . . Flo Garvin and trio at this writing are now at the Mayfair tavern. . . . I hear that the Ferguson hotel lounge has closed for a while. . . . What's up, Jack.

DIGGIN' THE RECORDS (ANP) . . . Stan Kenton's newest are "The Lady in Red," Latin number, flipside is "Under a Blanket of Blue." . . . Both sides are very appealing (Capitol). . . . Stan Getz and Dizzy Gillespie take turns fronting a quintet on "Talk of the Town." . . . Diz takes the first side and Getz the second. The "Talk" is one of those cool and impressionistic discs. . . . Ray Brown, Herb Ellis, Oscar Peterson and Max Roach make up the group. (Norgran) With a different unit, Getz gets off to a fine start on "The Nearness of You," on the flip, "Pot Luck," with the tempo upped. (Norgran) . . . Tiny Bradshaw's "Over Flow," with much tenor sax work. Flip is "Don't Worry About Me," with Tiny on the vocals. (King) . . . ARNETT COBB and combo blowing hot on "Night." The mate features ensemble singing "No Child No More." (Atlantic) . . . Mr. B's newest single is "Beloved" and "Temporarily Blue." (MGM) . . . Frank Sinatra has "Three Coins in the Fountain" and "Rain." (Capitol) . . . "One O'Clock Jump" penned by Count Basie has a vocal version done up in great style by Jack Parker and Etta Jones with ork support. Jack is responsible for the vocal arrangement. Mate is the up-tempered "Kisses All Night Long." (Decca)

The 'Beat' says—Profit is a by-product of work; happiness is its chief product.

LATE F.L.A-S-H . . . Members George Freije, Paul Collins and Sec'y Lloyd E. Wilson will represent Local No. 3 (AFM) at the 57th annual convention of the Musicians Union in Milwaukee on June 14. More than 1,100 delegates will attend, representing 698 locals and 248,078 professional musicians of the U. S. and Canada.

Appearance A Howling Success at N. Y. Nitery

NEW YORK (ANP)—Eartha Kitt returned to La Vie on Rose here last week and was a howling success.

Her latest appearance was in contrast to her first one when the operator of the nitery cancelled her engagement after only three days. He said at that time he was not impressed with her. That was in December, 1952.

Since then, Miss Kitt has arrived with performances on stage, in the movies and on records. When she returned here, she cost Monte Proser, operator of La Vie en Rose, nearly $5,000, far more than previously. But one critic who caught both her performances was more impressed with her one in 1952.

Bill Smith, writing in The Billboard, entertainment publication, said:

"Where she was a superb performer when first caught, showing many facets, she now is a straight material singer with stress on sex. Latter, which she only indicated before, is now as subtle as a punch in the nose."

"Sex probably has a big market; everybody talks about it. But to ladle it out in such doses as Miss Kitt does now may prove very short-sighted. We wonder if Miss Kitt has taken to believing her own publicity."

Another critic, George Daniels of the Chicago Defender, has taken a dim view of Miss Kitt's later performance. Where once Daniels praised the singer, he, in recent articles, has predicted her success will be short-lived.

However, despite what some say, Miss Kitt's records still are selling in large numbers. And her price for personal appearances has increased.

W. C. HANDY'S SONG TO ETHIOPIA

NEW YORK (ANP)—The current visit of Emperor Haile Selassie to the United States recalls for W. C. Handy a song he wrote in collaboration with Andy Razaf when Ethiopia was attacked by Italy.

Handy, who has composed many a tune, among them "St. Louis Blues," called his song about Ethiopia, "There is a Red Glow in the Sky Above Vesuvius." The song was published in the book, "Unsung Americans Sing."

Handy said the song has four stanzas ending with this prayer: "O God, above, look down upon Vesuvius."

And let the light of love shine through again.
Dispel the clouds that frown upon Vesuvius.
And make the sky a peaceful blue again.
And make the sky a peaceful blue again."

HARLEM GLOBETROTTERS OWNER ENTERS TV FIELD

CHICAGO (ANP)—Abe Saperstein, owner and coach of the famed Globetrotters basketball team, has entered the TV film field. Saperstein will maintain headquarters here, with offices in New York and Hollywood.

Associated with Saperstein will be Samuel Rosen.

MILLS BROTHERS AT CIRO'S

HOLLYWOOD (ANP)—The Mills Brothers currently are playing Cirio's nitery here.

The group, one of the oldest in show business, offers guests a succession of its hit numbers from the "Paper Doll" era to the "Jones Boy" of this year.

KING COLE PACKS 'EM IN AT CHEZ PAREE

CHICAGO (ANP)—Nat (King) Cole nightly is singing before a turnout attendance at this City's ultra society Chez Paree.

Cole holds his audience through 16 tunes, most of which were recorded. Those which received the best reception were "Pretend," "Nature Boy," and "Calypso Blues."

Aside from Mr. McBain, the corded. Those which received the best reception were "Pretend," "Nature Boy," and "Calypso Blues."

The last one displayed Cole's versatility.

Name Paul Dunn GOP Job Chief

Republican job seekers will be cleared through Paul S. Dunn, chief deputy county clerk, it was announced last week.

Dunn was named patronage chief of the Republican County committee, in an announcement by H. Dale Brown, county clerk and 11th District chairman, and Joseph Silvey, the GOP county chairman.

They said all job applications would be steered through the new chief, with exception of the most important ones, which will receive the combined attention of all three men.

No wholesale firings are planned, they said, emphasizing the desire of all to secure utmost harmony among Republican factions representing the regular organization and headed by Mayor Alex M. Clark.

The Brown forces defeated the regulars at the May 4 primary. Brown said, "Both Silvey and I have confidence in Paul Dunn's ability to get the job done and fairness to all groups in our party."

SILVEY also announced results of several ward elections, including the Sixth in which two Negroes were chosen by the precinct committeemen as ward officials.

EDWARD BROWN, 1001 W. 33rd, was named co-chairman, and his wife Mrs. Mary Brown, named vice-co-chairman of the Sixth ward. Also elected were William Yeager, co-chairman, and Mrs. Elbert, co-vice-chairman, who will share responsibility of leadership with the Browns.

South Missed The Point Adlai Stevenson Says

MERIDIAN, Miss. (ANP)—The South missed the point on the recent U. S. Supreme Court school segregation decision, Adlai E. Stevenson, 1952 Democratic party candidate for president and former governor of Illinois told Mississippians last week.

Speaking at the annual hillbilly musical festival honoring the late Jimmie Rogers, Stevenson told an audience at Ray Stadium that Jimmie Rogers was not merely a Southern problem, but a national one. He advised the North and South to work together to solve it.

"It seems to me that much of the talk since the decision has missed the most important point—that is, the South has been invited by the court to share the burden of blueprinting the mechanics for solving the new school problem of non-segregation.

"In effect, the South, a section with great racial complexities, has been challenged to share in writing the decree, share the burden along with the court."

To the nation, Stevenson said: "It behooves us all to harness the resources of the federal government, the U. S. Office of Education and all the technical skills of our great universities, our brains and hearts—both North and South—to help one another work out this problem.

"It isn't just the Southern problem—it's a national one, even as the Constitution governs us all, and not just one region."

WHILE in Mississippi, Stevenson also visited Jackson. There he was greeted by a state capital porter, J. H. Hutcherson, and shook hands with him. Hutcherson called him "the next president of the United States," Stevenson answered, "Don't bet on that and I won't make any promises."

Greeting Stevenson in a reception line was Percy Greene, once militant editor of the Jackson Advocate, but recently quoted as favoring segregation of Negro and white children in schools.

WANT TO WRITE? HERE'S HOW

NEW YORK (ANP)—Most people at one time or another express a desire to write, but few actually get around to doing it. Elliott Lewis, CBS radio producer-director, has some advice for these would-be writers. Among other things, he said:

"Before you can become a specialist, you must learn your craft. You can't get the gravy without the work, and believe me, writing is hard work. There are a lot of easier ways to make a living than to sit all alone in a room and put your guts down on a piece of paper, probably to have someone else tear it apart later. As a producer-director, I believe in letting a writer write. This means leaving him alone. For anyone aspiring to a writing career, the old advice remains the best there is: 'If you want to be a writer, write!' But don't limit yourself. It doesn't pay. The market for writing is open wide today with a new medium, television, added to the old ones, radio, pictures, magazines, pulps, etc. . . ."

Effect of Supreme Court Decision On Race Relations Tremendous

By JAMES J. FOREE

CHICAGO (ANP)—Several decisions rendered by the U. S. Supreme Court recently will have far-reaching effect on race relations in the country.

The high tribunal on May 17 ruled that segregation in public schools is unconstitutional. The court followed that up with other decrees on Monday, May 24.

The over-all effect of the series of rulings is to ban race discrimination in public schools, public housing and public places of amusement which receive financial support or are owned by various arms of government.

Already certain local and state school boards have acted to pave the way for integration in schools. To mention a few, the boards of Greensboro, N. C., and Washington, D. C. Those boards acted in the wake of the ruling outlawing Jim Crow schools.

The court rulings which followed said that Negroes must be allowed to live in any public housing project and that colored persons must be allowed to use the Iroquois Amphitheater in Louisville, a city owned theater.

In other rulings, the court returned two school cases to lower courts with the advice that the courts reconsider the cases in light of the recent high court decision outlawing segregation in schools.

Probably the most important of the rulings is that on school segregation. It will mean that in the next few years separate schools will be a thing of the past.

THE TRANSITION is expected to experience opposition from diehards in some areas. Also expected to oppose the change are Negro teachers who fear loss of jobs. Some state officials of Georgia and Mississippi have asserted that the Supreme Court ruling on schools will be ignored.

"We're not going to secede from the Union," Gov. Herman Tamm of Georgia said. "But the people of Georgia will not comply with the decision of the court."

It would take several divisions of troops down here to police every school building in Georgia and then they wouldn't be able to enforce it."

GOVERNOR TAMMADGE, along with Gov. James F. Byrnes of South Carolina, has promised to end the public school system in his state. However, most observers feel that the people of Georgia and South Carolina will not stand for such a move.

Many feel that the preliminary action to end state operated schools was designed as a warning to the Supreme Court. Now that it failed to halt the high tribunal from outlawing segregation it remains to be seen what the governors intend to do.

Immediately after the announcement by some Southern states that segregation will be maintained despite the court ruling, some Negroes said they prefer and intend to keep separate schools.

Some white leaders have stated that colored persons want segregated schools. The Supreme Court held that separate schools are "inherently unequal." It follows then that if Negroes prefer separate schools, they also prefer unequal schools. It is doubtful that this is true.

It is nearer the truth to say that colored persons are bowing to fears that Negro teachers will lose their jobs. They also are bowing to community-level extra-legal pressure from whites which makes them say one thing, out of fear, when they really mean another.

ONE NEGRO EDUCATOR in Mississippi, in a message to his pupils on the eve of school adjournment for summer, advised them to listen to the advice of white leaders on the school issue.

However, it is doubtful if the thinking-minded Negro, South or North, will follow anyone who opposes first-class citizenship for him. The NAACP has vowed to fight any attempts to circumvent the high court decision. And, despite what they may say to white folks, most colored persons support the NAACP in the school issue.

The road to legal equality has been a long one. The practical application of it still is some way off. Negroes have come a long way since that day in 1857 that Chief Justice Roger B. Taney ruled they had "no rights the white man had to respect."

In between there have been the 13th, 14th and 15th Amendments to the U. S. Constitution which were intended to make first-class citizens of Negroes. However, several decades after their passage, the Supreme Court handed down the "separate but equal theory" which in effect nullified the 14th Amendment. Regulations on the local level tended to do the same thing with the 15th Amendment.

But today Negroes in most sections of the country are voting in increasing numbers. With this newly-found power they do not intend to allow the recent court decision to be bypassed or ignored as some would have us believe.

Negro Among 5 Convicted Reds

ST. LOUIS—Marcus A. Murphy, 46, Negro who ran for lieutenant governor of Missouri on the Communist ticket in 1940, was among five Communists convicted of conspiring to advocate the overthrow of the government by force and

A jury of 11 men and a woman returned the verdict in U. S. District Court Friday of last week after two hours and 15 minutes deliberation.

The trial began Jan. 25 and required 46 days of testimony, a record for a federal court here.

OTHERS CONVICTED were: James F. Forest, 44, Missouri state chairman of the Communist party; his wife, Dorothy Rose Forest, 39, former organizational secretary of the party's Hollywood, Cal., section; William Sentner, 47, Midwest district official of the United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers, and Robert Manewitz, 37, former educational director of the party here, now a resident of Los Angeles.

Judge Roy W. Harper told the jury, "Your verdict is a just one." He deferred sentencing until June 4. Each defendant faces a possible maximum sentence of five years in prison and a $10,000 fine.

DR. MARRON W. FORT of Newburyport, Mass., has been appointed Light Chemical Specialist in Israel by the Department of Commerce.

Dr. Fort, who is 46 years old and married with 2 children, received his B. S. degree in electrochemical engineering, M. S. degree in electrochemical engineering and Ph. D. in physical chemistry from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Dr. Fort is vice president of the A. & G. J. Caldwell Co., Inc., distillers. He also served as a consultant on electrochemical problems in the U. S., Puerto Rico and South America. He is director and owner of the East Coast Laboratories.

He served in the U. S. Navy from 1944 to 1946, beginning as an apprentice seaman. He was discharged in 1946 with a rank of full lieutenant. After graduation from the Supply Corps school at Harvard, he served at Pearl Harbor.

Fort, long active in local and civic affairs in Newburyport, is a former member of the school committee and is currently serving his second term as a member of the city council.

He was chairman of the Republican City Committee from 1949 to 1952 and chairman of the Eisenhower for president committee during the '52 campaign. He is the author of many technical articles in the engineering field, a member of the American Chemical Society, former member of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, a member of the American Institute of Chemists, and a member and past president of the Newburyport Kiwanis Club.

In the last municipal election, Dr. Fort proved to be the city council's best vote-getter, leading the ticket by several hundred votes. He has served on a number of Massachusetts State commissions.

Red Cross Asks Home For Needy Family
Housing urgently is needed for a colored family of 8 which lost its previous rented dwelling in a fire April 7, according to Indianapolis Red Cross.

The present temporary home, arranged on an emergency basis, is unsatisfactory. Red Cross is trying to find housing for the family which includes the mother; three girls, ages 11, 5 and 5 months; four boys, ages 1½, 2½ and twins 7½.

In its efforts to locate available housing, the local Chapter has been in constant contact with real estate companies and daily has checked newspaper advertisements.

Offers of housing for the family should be called to Mrs. Kaye at Red Cross Home Service, Lincoln 1441.

Says Older Person's Work Much Needed For Economic Stability

The progress made by medical research in the last 20 years has done much toward increasing the age and productivity of workers who today have reached 65 years of age. It is generally realized that the older worker who does not find his place in industry becomes an economic burden to himself, his family and to the entire nation.

According to Dr. Charles E. Dutchess, vice president and medical director of Schenley Laboratories, Inc., the nation will encounter a steep decline in its standard of living through taxes and economic loss of goods and services if the older worker is not fitted into the industrial picture.

The Schenley Laboratories officials point out that medical science will vouch for the stamina, the strength and energy of the older worker. Because of medicine, a person who is 65 today may be as alert, as young in spirit as a person many years his junior.

Dr. Dutchess reveals that to pay a male baby can expect to live 66 years. A female infant—usually biologically stronger—will probably live to be 71. Only 50 years ago in America, a new baby could look forward to a span of but 48 years, while for the female it was 51 years.

Employers themselves have found support for the faith in elderly workers. They have found that old-age workers show a trend toward fewer accidents than among younger workers, both here and abroad. They also know that the precision work, productivity and accuracy of older workers offset the greater physical strength and dexterity of younger workers.

Extensive surveys of the older worker in industry have shown that the decline in physical energy is not nearly so important as had been thought. This is true because older workers with experience are able to develop valuable compensations. They do not need to expend so much energy on a given task because they have learned shortcuts. It is important, also, to remember that increased use of power machines lightens jobs and brings more tasks within the range of the elderly.

Need More Medical Students, Says Medic
NEW YORK (ANP)—Dr. Peter Marshall Murray, newly inducted president of the Medical Society of New York, last week said there should be more Negro medical students.

"I believe," he said, "there should be twice as many Negroes studying medicine today."

Dr. Murray took a dim view of charges of racial discrimination, saying there have been "rumors," but few well-documented cases of discrimination against Negro physicians.

He said the society's committee on discrimination has had "a wholesome effect" in New York county.
